Important: Safety information about video games

About photosensitive seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause photosensitive epileptic seizures while watching video games. These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Adults who allow teenagers (or children) to play the games should watch for or ask their children about these symptoms as they are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by playing in a well-lit room and by not playing when you are drowsy or fatigued. If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Play safely

Take a break from playing games at least every half hour. Stop playing immediately if you begin to feel tired or if you experience an unpleasant sensation or pain in your hands and/or arms. If the condition persists, consult a doctor. Use of vibration can aggravate injuries. Do not turn vibration on if you have any ailment in the bones or joints of your fingers, hands, wrists, or arms.

CARE AND MAINTENANCE

Your game card and game deck are products of superior design and craftsmanship and should be treated with care. The suggestions below will help you protect your warranty coverage and enjoy your game for many years.

- Keep the game card and game deck dry. Precipitation, humidity and all types of liquids or moisture can contain minerals that will corrode electronic circuits.
- Do not use or store the game card and game deck in dusty, dirty areas.
- Do not store the game card and game deck in hot areas.
- Do not store the game card and game deck in cold areas. When the game deck returns to its normal temperature, moisture can form inside the game deck and damage electronic circuit boards.
- Do not attempt to open the game card or game deck other than as instructed in the user guide.
- Do not drop, knock, or shake the game card and game deck.
- Do not use harsh chemicals, cleaning solvents, or strong detergents to clean the game card or game deck.
- Keep the game card out of the reach of small children.

All of the above suggestions apply equally to your game card, game deck, and any enhancement.

Designed for the Nokia N-Gage™ Game Deck

Introduction

FIFA 2005 is the latest version of Electronic Arts' superstar sports franchise and is the first N-Gage™ sequel, following the success of FIFA 2004 on the Nokia N-Gage™ game deck.

In FIFA 2005 you can play Friendlies, choose your favorite team and play against the club or international team of your choice—or guide your favorite team through a full season of league or tournament play.

This version offers new and improved offensive and defensive AI, more varied animations and visual indicators to put you into the action like never before. Players on the attack will use 1–2 passing and through balls to penetrate the defense. Defensive players will work cooperatively to fend off attacks.

New modes will keep you playing for hours. In Career mode you will guide a team through a number of seasons and lead them to the top of the tables. Challenge mode will allow you to reenact great historical games and change history.

Whether you're a coach or a player you get to choose your team and dictate the style of play. If you're pitted against a red-hot attacking team, play a tighter defensive formation and counter-attack when the opportunity arises. If playing a tough defensive-minded team, choose an aggressive attacking style to crack their position. It's your team to guide to victory... or defeat!

What's New in FIFA 2005
